Idea: Matching Shapes

Great math activity that helps with prosocial behavior by using thinking skills to solve questions. Also, it helps recognize patterns and objects in different series and pattern structures.

What you need: 3 objects of the same size and color. Two should be similar in shape.

How-to: You should pick up one of two similar shapes. Asking questions such as: Can you find one that is similar to the one I am holding? Can you find one like this? Talk about the shapes, colors and sizes.
